Excellency,

I extend my congratulations to you on your election as the 8th President of Sri Lanka.

You have assumed the high office at a critical time for Sri Lanka. I hope your tenure will nurture economic stabilization as well as fulfill the aspirations of all citizens of Sri Lanka.

As a close friend and neighbour of Sri Lanka, India will continue to be supportive of the quest of the people of Sri Lanka for stability and economic recovery, through established democratic means, institutions and constitutional framework.

I look forward to working closely with you for the mutual benefit of our people as also for further strengthening the age-old, close and friendly relations between our two countries.

I wish Your Excellency a successful term in office.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

(Narendra Modi)

H.E. Mr Ranil Wickremesinghe,
President
Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka
